

SCHOOL CALENDAR

The Rumson Board of Education endorses the concept of maximum quality education achieved through the greatest possible number of instructional days; therefore, the state-required minimum number of teaching days is not automatically the length of the Rumson School District school year. The school calendar will have a minimum of 183 days. If the days beyond the state-requirement of 180 days are not utilized for emergency closings, they will be used as teaching days in accordance with this policy.

The calendar will be adopted in consultation with the Fair Haven and Rumson-Fair Haven Regional School Districts in order to seek a calendar that includes vacation periods that are least disruptive to parents with children in more than one school district.
